

April 2, 2020, from Provost Robbin Hoopes

Dear Cincinnati State Students,

We know the developments of the last few weeks have been stressful. Many of you had to experience learning in a different way than you had planned at the beginning of the semester.

We appreciate your patience and perseverance in continuing to work toward your educational goals under these circumstances.

In recognition of the unexpected changes caused by the response to COVID-19, the College has several course grading options for you to consider. These options are described in the attached document. [Note – contents of attachment are on the Covid-19 web page in the section “Student Grading Options for Spring Semester”]

Please talk to your advisor or program chair before using these options.

Stay focused and stay on track.
