Persistence, Retention, and Graduation Rate Report
Fall Cohorts from 2017 – 2024: New, Degree-Seeking Students

This report provides summary information for persistence rates (fall to spring term), retention rates (fall to fall term), and graduation rates for fall cohorts of degree-seeking and first-time students at Cincinnati State. These cohorts and methodology align with the cohorts and student success metrics/outcomes in the Annual Academic Self Study dashboards, the Student Success and Completion Plan, and the Student Success Goals.

It is strongly recommended that users of this report review it alongside the Annual Academic Self Study and Student Success and Completion Targets to allow for ever further segmentation and analysis of this information.

Notes:

This document uses end of semester (EOS) cohorts for all calculations. These cohorts include all degree-seeking students who have attempted credits greater than zero and were new to the college in the specified Fall Semester. These cohorts include transfer students, but exclude former non-degree seeking students at Cincinnati State (including former CCP students).
